

Actor Siddharth's tweet against shuttler Saina Nehwal draws flak

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

THE National Commission for Women has taken suo motu cognisance of actor's Siddharth's comment on Badminton player Saina Nehwal and has written to Twitter asking the social media company to block the actor's account.

Calling his comments lewd, inappropriate and misogynist, the commission has also written to the Maharashtra police seeking to register an FIR against him under relevant sections.

The reaction comes after Siddharth's tweet, posted on January 6, was amplified by Twitter users. On January 5, ace shuttler Nehwal, who is also a BJP member, tweeted condemning the alleged lapse in security of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"No nation can claim itself to be safe if the security of its own PM gets compromised. I condemn, in the strongest words possible, the cowardly attack on PM Modi by anarchists. #BharatStandsWithModi #PMMODI," she tweeted on January 5.

Responding to this, the actor tweeted, "Subtle cock champion of the world... Thank God we have protectors of India. Folded hands. Shame on you #Rihanna," on January 6. The tweet started receiving attention on Monday with several politicians and members of the film fraternity condemning the actor's comment.

The NCW claimed that the comment was misogynist, outrages the modesty of a woman, amounts to disrespect and insults the dignity of women.
